

Welcome to the VQEG Meeting and Deutsche Telekom Laboratories in Berlin!

If you are travelling to Deutsche Telekom Laboratories and the VQEG meeting from outside Berlin, you can travel by rail, air or car. The following overview shows the various points of arrival in Berlin, and which routes take you into the city.

We look forward to seeing you!

Note that the VQEG meeting rooms are in approximately 30m walking distance from Deutsche Telekom Laboratories, just across the street (see detailed maps below).

Our address:

Deutsche Telekom AG, Laboratories (18th floor)
Ernst-Reuter-Platz 7
10587 Berlin

VQEG Meeting Rooms:

Signal-Iduna Building
Ernst-Reuter-Platz 3-5
10587 Berlin

Arrival by airplane.

Arrival at Tegel airport.

Take bus X9 heading towards S+U-Bahnhof Zoologischer Garten and get off at U-Bahnhof Ernst-Reuter-Platz. It will take approximately 15 minutes.

Arrival at Tempelhof airport.

Take the U6 U-Bahn line towards Alt-Tegel and get off at the Stadtmittte station. From there change to the U2 line heading towards Ruhleben and get off at Ernst-Reuter-Platz. In total, it will take approximately 25 minutes.

Arrival at Schönefeld airport.

Take the free shuttle bus to the S-Bahn station Flughafen Berlin-Schönefeld. There, take the AirportExpress train (DB RE4 or DB RE5) heading towards Rathenow or Rostock and get off at the Zoologischer Garten station. Next, take the U-Bahn line U2 heading towards Ruhleben and get off at Ernst-Reuter-Platz. In total, it will take approximately 45 minutes. The AirportExpress departs approximately every 30 minutes.

Arrival by car.

General remarks on travelling to Berlin by car.

If you are traveling to Berlin by car, it is best to take the highway or Stadtautobahn (see overview map). From the exit marked Kaiserdamm, it is approximately a 10-minute drive to Ernst-Reuter-Platz, depending on the traffic.

Parking.

There is always plenty of (metered) parking in Bismarckstraße.

Parking in Otto-Suhr-Allee is free of charge but can be a little bit farther from Ernst-Reuter-Platz.

Arriving from the north via the A 111.

Follow the A 111. This will automatically take you onto the A 100. Take the exit marked Kaiserdamm, and turn left into Knobelsdorffstraße. After crossing the autobahn turn right into Sophie-Charlotten-Straße. Turn left into Kaiserdamm at the next traffic light. Follow Kaiserdamm (it will turn into Bismarckstraße) until you reach Ernst-Reuter-Platz.

Arriving from the south via the A 115 (Avus) or the A 100.

If you are arriving via the A 115 (Avus), please continue to the intersection Dreieck Funkturm. From there, take the A 100 heading towards Hamburg. Take the exit marked Kaiserdamm, turn right into Knobelsdorffstraße and turn right again at the next traffic light into Sophie-Charlotten-Straße. At the next traffic light, turn left into Kaiserdamm. Follow Kaiserdamm (it will turn into Bismarckstraße) until you reach Ernst-Reuter-Platz.

Arrival by train.

Arriving at the Berlin Hauptbahnhof railway station.

Take Bus no. 245 heading towards S+U Zoologischer Garten. Get off at the Marchstraße stop. The bus departs every 10 minutes from Invalidenstr. (just north of the station) and the trip takes about 20 minutes.

Catering.

Coffee and beverages during the meeting will be provided. For lunch, there will be reservations in two different restaurants for each day, so that we will subdivide the group into two. Lunch will need to be paid for individually by each participant.

VQEG social event.

A social event boat trip dinner will take place on Wednesday 24th. The trip and buffet-dinner are sponsored by T-Labs, the beverages will need to be paid for individually by the participants. More details will be provided during the meeting.